

BOMB THROWER AT WORK IN CLEVELAND

Residence of H. H. Johnson Damaged by the Explosion—
One Theory is That the Bomb was Intended for Former Governor Herrick.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 31.—The police are today investigating an attempt to blow up the home of H. H. Johnson, a prominent corporation attorney, in fashionable Euclid Heights, a millionaire suburb. Next door to Johnson's home is the residence of former Governor Herrick.

Late last night, a bomb was thrown from the street. It fell short of the house, tore a big hole in the yard, blew out the windows and tore off a corner of the house. Police say, had the bomb struck the house, it would have completely wrecked it.

Johnson has been selected to represent the present street car interests in a joint debate with Mayor Johnson on 3-cent fare at the Labor day picnic Monday. Johnson believes that the bomb was meant for him because he has been prominent in prosecuting a gang of rowdies which lately infested the neighborhood.

Another theory being investigated by the police is that the bomb thrower really intended to blow up the residence of former Governor Herrick and made a mistake in the house. This theory is that the thrower was an ex-convict who held a grudge against Herrick.

"ANANIAS" WHITNEY IS AFTER THE PRESIDENT

He Scores the Scheme of National Incorporation as a Trust
Remedy and is Not Mild in His Manner of Handling Roosevelt.

Fitchburg, Mass., Aug. 31.—President Roosevelt's plan of national incorporation as a remedy for trust evils was roundly roasted and the author of the scheme himself touched up briskly last night by Henry M. Whitney, member of the president's Ananias club, who is making a whirlwind tour of the state in his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for governor. Whitney said:

"What a comprehensive and effective scheme for obtaining campaign contributions and for corrupt practices such a policy might be made to be. Does anybody doubt that under a national incorporation act the tendency would be to label all the corporations favorable to the policies of the administration as good and those opposed to the administration as bad? And could anything better be devised for driving small men out of business and giving to the large corporations a practical monopoly than such a device.

"My plan would be to leave it to a competent expert to determine what the labor cost is of any protected article, than the difference between this cost and the tax imposed by the existing tariff to be taken off by reductions of ten per cent each year."

SCHWAB DONATES A MILLION TO THE U. OF P.

He Follows in the Footsteps of Andrew Carnegie, Saying
He Hopes to Establish the Finest Engineering School in the World—He will Give More.

New York, Aug. 31.—Charles M. Schwab is following in the footsteps of Andrew Carnegie, who was his guiding star in the steel industry. He has branched out as a donor to colleges. The University of Pennsylvania is his pet. He made the announcement of a gift of $1,000,000 to the institution last night and stated that he hopes to give more.

"I want the University of Pennsylvania to have the finest engineering school in the world," said Schwab. "The other day I was able to give $1,000,000 toward this end. If I can do so, I am going to give a lot more, and it is only when a man begins to go in for this kind of work that he really appreciates what money can do."

Schwab also devoted himself to denouncing there is a financial crisis of any real danger in this country. He said: "We hear a lot about the financial depression and things of that kind. Let me tell you, there can be no long-lasting financial depression in the United States. There is too much real money, too much prosperity and too much real American spirit in this country to stand for such a condition of affairs."

CUPID THE VICTOR

Romance Begun at Gettysburg will Culminate
Next Month.

Laurel, Pa., Aug. 31.—A pretty romance, having its inception on the Gettysburg battlefield during the civil war will have its culmination in a marriage next month during the G. A. R. encampment at Saratoga. The parties to the incident are Mrs. Rebecca L. Price, of Lancaster, and Major August Vignos, of Canton, Ohio.

During the war, Mrs. Price, who lived at Phoenixville responded to Governor Curtin's call for nurses. During the Gettysburg battle, Mrs. Price cared for Major Vignos, whose arm had been blown off by a shell. After the wound had healed the nurse saw nothing of the soldier, but retained a photograph given her, he doing the same. Last week she learned the address of the major and wrote him. He gallantly arranged a meeting with the woman, whose nursing helped to save his life.

Mrs. Price is a member of the National Association of War Nurses and has been honored by it with election to some of its important offices.

IMMUNITY BATH FOR CHICAGO AND ALTON

The Part Taken by the Officials of the Road in the Standard Oil Company Prosecution Renders its Prosecution Proof—Attorney General Bonaparte so Decides.
